Mona Ashour Abdelfatah Hassan Soukar, PhD student, Alexandria University, Egypt.

INC Travel Grant Report of Year 2019/2020

First, I would like to thank the International Numismatic Council to give me this chance for travelling grant of 2000 €, this grant gave me the opportunity to visit Oxford, Cambridge and London.

About my research, I am preparing a PhD degree at Alexandria University - Egypt, my thesis’s title is “Alexandrian Coinage of Commodus” which is a die study. I should collect all the collection of Alexandrian coins of Commodus from all the museums abroad, although the RPC online collected a great data, it does not allow the specialists to access to all the pictures, which is according to their rules and permits. For sure these pictures are necessary to create a die study, so, I have a problem in permissions to access to all the coins, so, I requested to the INC annual grant, to collect some collections from its own cabinet.

The mission was for one month from the mid of October to the mid of November in England, during this month I visited the Ashmolean Museum in Oxford, I studied the collection there, then I visited the Fitzwilliam Museum in Cambridge, also, I studied the collection there, and I visited the British Museum.

In Oxford, I met Prof. Chris Howgego, and Dr. Volker Heuchert, they welcomed me, and let me attend their lectures, I studied the collection of the Ashmolean Museum, and I spent much time in the Sackler Library to collect scientific data¹, which are very beneficial

¹ Auktion Basel Auktion Miinzhandlung Basel, 1936, Monnaies Alexandrines, No.6, 18., Miirz.

Bowman Alan & Wilson Andrew (eds.), Quantifying the Roman Economy, Oxford.

Mona Ashour Abdelfatah Hassan Soukar, PhD student, Alexandria University, Egypt.

for my thesis, all these data will provide my thesis with fundamental data.

“Me with Dr. Volker in Heberden Coin Room in Ashmolean Museum”

Robertson Anne S., 1962, Hunterian Museum (University of Glasgow), Oxford.

Roman Imperial Coinage: Volumes 1&2&9&10.

SNG Royal Collection Copenhagen Complete Set - 43 Parts in 8 Volumes, Part 41: ALEXANDRIA - CYRENAICA.

Mona Ashour Abdelfatah Hassan Soukar, PhD student, Alexandria University, Egypt.

In Cambridge, when I met Dr. Adrian Popescu, he welcomed me, according to the appointments, which I organized with him before my visit, I spent two days in the Coins and Medals room, I already studied all the Fitzwilliam Museum Collection of Alexandrian Coinage of Commodus.

“The last visit was to London, I visited the British Museum, and saw the coin collections in its display.”
Mona Ashour Abdelfatah Hassan Soukar, PhD student, Alexandria University, Egypt.

“Me in the British Museum”

I would like to thank Dr Thomas Faucher, he is my supervisor, he always beside me in my researches. Many thanks to Prof. Francois d’callatay who helped me in my application process.

Special thanks to Prof. Christopher Howgego, who discussed with my very important issues in my research and I attended two lectures of his lectures, it is really an honour for me to meet him.

Many thanks for Dr Volker Heuchert who let me access to the collection in the Ashmolean Museum, give me permission to attend his lectures during my stay in Oxford and for his advice for me in my research. Also, I would like to thank Jerome who presented to me the RPC database online.

In Cambridge, I would like to thank Dr Adrian Popescu for his time to let me access and study the coin collection in the Fitzwilliam Museum.

It was with my pleasures and honor to accept in INC annual grant of 2019-2020.

Yours sincerely,
Mona Ashour.
Alexandria, Egypt.
15/11/2019